NEW VERSION OF JAPANESE POLICY MILD

More Conciliatory Language in Official Statement Is Given Ambassadors

JAPANESE HOPING INCIDENT CLOSED

TOKIO, April 28 (AP).—An official statement of Japan's China policy, asserting that Japan "cannot remain indifferent" to the efforts of foreign powers to aid China, has been furnished the British and United States ambassadors here.

The statement was delivered to Sir Francis Lindley and Joseph C. Grew, British and American ambassadors respectively, after they had requested Foreign Minister Koki Hirota for an authoritative translation of the "hands off China" declaration of the Foreign Office, of April 17.

MORE CONCILIATORY

The official statement, which was revealed here today, follows the main lines of the earlier declaration, but contains what diplomatic circles regarded as more conciliatory language.

Certain foreign efforts to help China, the new declaration says, "endanger the peace of East Asia." Japan, however, it continues, has no intention of violating China's integrity and integrity; desires the unification of China; supports the open door equal opportunity policy, and has no intention of infringing upon existing treaties.

Enthusiastic Reception Is Given "H.M.S. Pinafore"

Salvo After Salvo of Applause Interrupts Eurydice Club's Juvenile Production at Empire Theatre—Children Sing With Gusto

Punctuated by periodical salvoes of applause inspired by the surprisingly fine work of one after another of the juvenile singers and actors, "H. M. S. Pinafore," the Eurydice Club's maiden production given at the Empire Theatre, last night, was received with overwhelming enthusiasm by the big audience. Already there is talk of a second performance some night during the coming week, in which event a crowded house is practically guaranteed.

It was a truly splendid performance, the feature of which was the obvious enjoyment of the children themselves. From principals down to the unimportant members of the chorus (and one spectator solemnly wagged that some of them could not have cut their second teeth yet!) they sang and acted with a zest and earnestness that reflected keen pleasure in their parts. One needed no reminder to put aside the tradition of the old production of the Savoy or elsewhere, for comparison was neither intended nor needed. Judged purely on its merits as a juvenile performance this was unique, a thing apart, distinguished by admirable singing and acting, excellent costumes, adequate stage setting, and generally good all-round production.

FINE PRINCIPALS

Reference to the story is unnecessary. As for the principals, hearty congratulations are due the person who made the selection. Outstandingly beautiful was the work of Margaret Lennox as Josephine; of W. G. Frampton as Ralph; of Robert McVie as Richard Deadeye; and of Howard Vey and James McLean as the two sailors, respectively. There were also Alisa Barclay and Grace Tuckey as Buttercup and John Pimm as the boatswain and his mate. Every one of them acted well, and the first three, particularly, showed more than ordinary musicianship, while all showed imagination in their work.

KNEES FELT AS IF IN CEMENT

Woman Who Had Rheumatism for 10 Years

NOW WALKS 4 MILES WITH EASE

"Since coming here from England 10 years ago," writes a married woman, "I have suffered terribly from rheumatism. I have been in hospital and spent money to no end. I have used medicines and potions until I was weary. I heard of Kruschen Salts so often, that I thought one day I'd try that. By this time my knees had become locked, as if in cement. I was just desperate, for I felt that the day was not far off when I wouldn't be able to get about at all and it made me so downhearted. Well, I bought a bottle of Kruschen, and took a teaspoonful every morning. When the bottle was finished I said, 'Oh, it's the same as everything else. I'm no better.' But my husband said, 'Persevere; try another.' By this time I had a chance to get on my feet. Well, I got another, and before it was finished my knees unlocked—honestly they did. I could hardly believe it myself when I could stop down and get up again without help. I was so excited about it. I kept on, took another bottle, and before me I am not like the same woman. I walked four miles the other day and felt fine, whereas before I could hardly walk across the floor. "My husband has been out of work all winter, but I'd get my Kruschen Salts before I'd buy a thing to eat. It made me so much to be well and able to walk. I feel I should tell you all this, if it will benefit others." (Mrs. E. A.)

What more need be said to convince other sufferers? At any rate, they should give Kruschen a trial. Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

Not often does one hear in an amateur production group any prettier singing than Margaret Lennox's in "Bury Her Lot" and "The Hours Creep on Apace," nor a better conception of the character of Ralph's solo, "A Maiden Fair to See," or than little Robert McVie's of the solo lead in "For He Is an Englishman."

The duets by Josephine and Ralph, especially "Refrain, Audacious Tar," were delightful in every way, and the other ensembles, particularly the "Bell Trio" and the octette and chorus, "Farewell, My Own," deserve special mention also.

Among the finest choruses were "My Gallant Crew," "Sir Joseph's Barge" and "A British Tar Is a Scouring Soul" (Act I) and "Carry Along on Tip-Toe Stealing." These were all received with a storm of applause, some being repeated.

Another highlight of the evening was the dancing of Maryann Peterson and the hornpipe chorus. The expert and nimble lightening of foot shown by these young dancers in a joyous thing to watch, and here again the proceedings were delayed some moments for the applause to subside. The work of the orchestra, at this point particularly, was strikingly good.

The entire cast was as follows: Principals: Josephine, Margaret Lennox; Buttercup, Alisa Barclay; Grace Tuckey; the admiral, Howard Vey; Captain Corcoran, James McVie; Ralph, W. G. Frampton; Dick Deadeye, Bobby McVie; boatswain, John Pimm; boatswain's mate, Tom Anley.

Chorus: Dorothy Adams, Barbara Bamford, Lily Barnes, Irene Birkett, Mary Crowe, Ivy Dunnett, Olive Edmunds, Nancy Kyles, Helen Knapp, Adrienne Mellor, Beatrice Murray, Sheila MacArthur, Jean McConnell, Estelle MacDougall, Jean MacKay, Dorothy McKelvey, Peggy McVie, "Billy" Natras, Betty Patton, Victor Eaton, M. Dorra Gillan, Ruth Gillan, K. Hamilton, Doris Hendry, Margaret Jones, Helen Knox, June Percy, Olga Pinnington, Lloyd Silver, Winston Silver, Margaret Stewart, John Stewart, "Billy" Stone, Robert Trickett, Ellen Varney, Alma Vey, Marion Wingate, Dorrie Wright.

Cousins: Sylvia Birkett, Irene Brown, Mary Coleman, Irene Pindley, Winifred Hope, Hilda Kyle, Barbara McVie, Dorothy McVie, Freda Natras, Mabel Pinnington. Solo dancers: Miss Maryann Peterson (unassisted by Miss Nancy Ferguson); and dance ensemble (pupils of the Russian Ballet School of Dance)—Josephine Wilson, Rosemary Yarrow, Jean Ray, Peggy Shepherd, Patricia Boyd, Myra Batchelor, Daphne Sutton, Estelle McDougall, Josephine Dowell, Joyce Milady, Florencia Ray, Lillian Foster, Mary Wilson, Elizabeth Angus and Ermine Webber.

Percy McKelvey and Miss W. B. McKelvey (president of the Eurydice Club) were producer and assistant producer, respectively, and Edgar Holloway was musical director, filling a triple role in this capacity by directing the chorus, directing the orchestra, and himself playing the piano in the production. A similar program of other instruments were played by Jenny Benn, William M. Touche, Carl Benn and Agnes Benn.

SEEK STRICTER BATHING RULES

Catholic Clergy of Free State Open Drive for "Purer Resorts"

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, April 27 (CP).—Hot on the heels of a campaign backed by the Catholic clergy to outlaw jazz dancing in the Free State, they come a drive against mixed bathing, sun bathing and bathing-costume parades.

Catholic press organs are following the lead of The Standard, the Roman Catholic newspaper, and of official mouthpiece of the church, in promoting local "Catholic action" committees representing religious bodies.

It will be the aim of these bodies to focus public attention on what they regard as outrages against public decency at seaside resorts and bathing clubs, and a national conference which is being arranged in Dublin will consider the method of attack.

The church demands by-laws segregating the sexes for dressing and undressing, prohibition of mixed bathing, sun bathing, except by private parties, and bathing-costume parades.

Local "vigilance committees" have been formed with the support of the clergy at some of the popular seaside resorts to do patrol duty on the beaches, and to demand that no make-up nothing "irregular" is taking place.

The Standard, leading the campaign for "purer seaside resorts," says: "Men and women parade themselves in the skimpiest and lightest of bathing dresses. Lightly clad in swimming costume they dance and romp to the accompaniment of music in the closest proximity, and in the sea carry on graceless pranks in which men lose all chivalry and girls all their gracious dignity."

STUDENT ACTS WELL RECEIVED

Normal School Dramatic Society Gives Three Plays—Fine Characterizations

Marked by fine characterizations, three plays—"Seven Women," "Delmonico," and "The Volga Boat Song"—produced by the Normal School Dramatic Society, last night, before a large audience in the school auditorium. A similar program will be offered tonight, commencing at 8:15 o'clock.

As an introduction to the final play, "Higness," a story of Russia, the society presented a play, "The Volga Boat Song," which drew enthusiastic applause.

"Higness," a highly dramatic production, was quite convincing in its presentation, giving Henry Worthington, a splendid opportunity to show his worth as a pompous and passionate Russian soldier. Miss Helen Harris, who took the part of a scrubwoman who finds in a play, was also by no means a fine portrayal. Both Miss Margaret Lutes, as a persecuted Royalist, and Wilton Dalby, a secretary under the Soviet regime, ably carry their roles.

LAUGHS PLENTIFUL "Laughs were plentiful in the sprightly and fast-moving act entitled 'Seven Women,' which featured Miss Margaret Taylor as Donald Cook, as a blundering sea captain. Miss Ruth Pickock and E. Hill-Tout rounded out the cast.

"Delmonico," a comedy, was presented by the society, and the two-act play, "The Volga Boat Song," played by Miss Margaret Hamilton, the two-act play, "Delmonico," was amusing and interesting. The cast of the play was portrayed to the fullest by the actors. The cast included, besides Miss Hamilton, Alastair, Alfred Foubister and Mr. Dalby. Incidental music for the play was rendered by Miss Helen Schupe at the piano.

During the evening a vocal solo was given by Miss Joan Hayes.

CHURCH PARADE TOMORROW

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Victoria, together with their auxiliary branches, will observe the one hundred and fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the order on the American Continent by attending divine service at St. John's Church, tomorrow morning.

Members will marshal at the hall, on Douglas Street, and led by the First Battalion, Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Pipe Band, will parade to St. John's Anglican Church, where Rev. Canon Chadwick will conduct services appropriate to the occasion. This year marks the first of several anniversaries to be commemorated this year by Odd Fellows.

On the second week in June, the Grand Lodge of British Columbia will hold its annual sessions in Victoria, when delegates and visitors from all over the province will attend. Special exercises will be held to celebrate the seventeenth birthday of Victoria Lodge, No. 1, the first lodge in British Columbia, instituted on March 10, 1864, by the Grand Lodge of California. Ten years later the grand lodge was formed, and British Columbia was raised to the standing of a jurisdiction. From this beginning the order has grown in British Columbia, to an aggregate membership of 14,000, combining fraternity with a practical system of assistance to its members in time of sickness or distress.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

A CRITIC AT HIS BEST A bridge glossary worthy of its name must include a full description of the word "kibitzer" in its etymological and (more important) anthropological connotations. To be truly comprehensive it should go further and should list the various types of grade "kibitzer" being really a generic term. Apropos of this I offer the following suggestion: Any first-grade kibitzer (one who is correct approximately 50 per cent of the time) should be instantly demoted to second grade the moment he fails to maintain this high grade in Australia. One must not, therefore, be too critical, but, after all, the critic must make some fun, and if the players make no mistakes, where is the critic's occupation?

Now, there is only one flaw in Mr. Adams' masterly analysis, and that is that the laughable contract of six clubs (which was easily produced. "He was defeated one trick. The Victorians bid the same cards to five clubs, which were easily produced."

"Now, I know quite well that match players are always liable to make what appear to be perfectly stupid errors in the stress and strain of the match played before the frequent eyes of spectators, and this match ever held in Australia. One must not, therefore, be too critical, but, after all, the critic must make some fun, and if the players make no mistakes, where is the critic's occupation?"

Now, there is only one flaw in Mr. Adams' masterly analysis, and that is that the laughable contract of six clubs (which was easily produced. "He was defeated one trick. The Victorians bid the same cards to five clubs, which were easily produced."

Early Victorians Went Without Many Latter-Day Aids

Drinking Water Bought From Carts; Fire Engines Mired in Ruts, and Wild Geese Were Hunted Along Cook Street, Victoria Group Told

NOT long before the turn of the present century, Victoria housewives bought their drinking water by the bucket from a water wagon drawn over dirt roads of the city streets; a hand-propelled fire engine often got mired on the way to a fire; builders put stones and broken glass between interior and exterior walls, to ward off rats; geese-hunting was in vogue on salt marsh now replaced by Cook Street; and "Meares" Street used to be spelled correctly.

These and other interesting details on early days in the city were given by C. C. Pemberton, son of the pioneer magistrate and police commissioner of Vancouver Island, and by Miss Madge Wolfenden, daughter of the late Lieutenant-Colonel Richard Wolfenden, one of the original company of Royal Engineers, who founded Sapperton, on the Fraser River, and built the first governor's residence there.

FAIRFIELD ESTATE
A facsimile of what is probably the earliest survey map on record of the Fairfield Farm estate, was shown by Mr. Pemberton. The map has been used as the basis of much determination of land boundaries in the area since given into the most thickly populated portion of the city.

Sidelights from the early history of Port Victoria, and recollections from his boyhood days on the Fairfield Farm estate, were entertainingly set out by Mr. Pemberton. "Glenview," the Pemberton family home, was built overlooking the Strait of Juan de Fuca, where, connected with the early history of the colony transpired.

SAILED UP STRAITS
In 1790 Quilmer coasted around Gonaire Point, crossed over to New Dungeness, and then coasted down the Washington shoreline to the mouth of the Strait. In 1791 Eliza passed the point, and a year later, in 1792, James Douglas landed at Clover Point, and selected a site for Port Victoria.

Mr. Pemberton said he recalled as a youth the pioneer vessel, the "Enterprise," a side-wheel steamer, a "walking-beast" engine, and the noise of the paddles that became audible when the vessel passed Ten-Mile Point. Captain William McNeill was her master, and used to whistle from the Enterprise Channel for his horse and buggy to be taken to the wharf against the tide.

PIONEER ON LAND
Magistrate A. F. Pemberton came north from San Francisco to Puget Sound, and crossed to Victoria in a trading sloop operated by a celebrated character, Jimmie Jimmie, landing at Ross Bay, from whence he walked to the fort. He leased land from Sir James Douglas, and farmed at Gonaire for a considerable period, successfully. One winter the snow stayed for five months on the ground, and losses in sheep flocks resulted. Mr. Pemberton, senior, lived in a cottage on the north side of Fairfield Road, until it burned.

They moved next to a house on the north side of Main Street, where Franklin Terrace is now. Glenview was erected later, overlooking Ross Bay, and it was there C. C. Pemberton spent much of his youth and early manhood days. His parents leased part of the Fairfield farm estate, at yearly rental of $10 an acre, and taxes, with the option to purchase the freehold for $1,000 an acre.

ORIGINAL ROAD
Streams ran through part of what is now the Fairfield district, with swamps. The Fairfield Road was laid down in 1857, and stands much in its original location. The Fairfield estate extended nearly to Cadboro Bay Road, and fronted on Fort Street for part of the way. It included Government House grounds, and the old Carey Castle.

QUEEN'S PRINTER
Miss Wolfenden's paper dealt with the establishment of the first official printer here. Richard Wolfenden holding the first post as Queen's Printer. On an American-made Columbian hand press, still preserved in the Archives, were turned out the first Gazette, and a copy of Lieut. Palmer's records.

Born in Yorkshire, of Lancashire parents, in 1836, Richard Wolfenden joined the Royal Engineers in 1855. He went through gunnery and arsenal schools, and volunteered for service in the new colony in 1858, making the voyage round the Horn in the sailing vessel Thames City. The Thames City anchored in Esquimaux Harbor after many vicissitudes, and the Royal Engineers trans-shipped to the Eliza Anderson, landing at Sapperton, where were erected barracks, and other public buildings.

Corporal Wolfenden was attached for duty to the personal staff of Colonel R. C. Moody, who became first Commissioner of Works. In 1863, he became the first superintendent of printing for the province, a task in which he was assisted by George Williams, W. Franklin, and Robert Butler.

FIRST PRINTER
The first printer was a little wooden, brick-venered, building on the grounds of the Legislative Building. Later, the presses were removed and moved into larger quarters, once occupied by the treasury, and later still moved into what is now the site of the old building, before the present establishment was erected on Superior Street.

A famous rifle shot, Richard Wolfenden won a place on the Wimbledon team, and took many prizes for his prowess. He was identified with the first militia here, and in 1868 retired from a volunteer artillery brigade with the rank of lieutenant-colonel. Forty years a civil servant, he was given the Imperial Service Order and other decorations. He died in harness in 1911, as King's Printer, after building up an efficient organization, which much improved machinery and methods.

Miss Wolfenden, who is a member of the staff of the Archives, showed excellent slides of the early days in Victoria. In support of her material, the meeting, held at the Archives, drew an interested audience, presided over by Major F. V. Longstaff, president of the association.

DIFFICULT TASK TO DIVIDE LAND

Court Suggests Area Might Be Assigned to Claimants by Agreement

The dispute over the boundary line between adjoining parcels of land at Kye Bay, near Courtenay, which was argued before Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, in the Supreme Court here, a few days ago, is the subject of a judgment handed down yesterday. The plaintiff, W. A. B. Paul, claimed that the defendant, F. H. Bates, of Vancouver, had cut the former out of access to the water by the location of his boundary fence.

In his judgment, Mr. Justice Robertson suggests that with respect to part of the land, a skilled man should be employed to carry out the rules laid down in such matters for ascertaining the division to be made. On the report as to this, the Lordship will consider it and make his final division.

NOT COVERED BY TITLES
His Lordship finds that part of the area in dispute is not covered by the titles held by the parties, but that it is land that has been created by accretion. Of this part is assigned to the defendant, who had been in possession. The defendant had not been in possession of the other part seaward of a fence which was referred to in the proceedings.

The division here would be by the rule of taking the general line of the shore and by running out perpendiculars, a proper division being made. He suggests, however, that perhaps the parties would be able to agree upon the proper line.

Arthur Leighton, of Nanaimo, appeared for the plaintiff, and F. Cumfrie, of the same city, for the defendant.

SCHOOL GIVES FINE CONCERT

Sir James Douglas Pupils Receive Warm Greeting From Large Audience

The auditorium at Sir James Douglas School was filled almost to overflowing Thursday night for the concert given by the children in aid of the school's funds. Long before the doors were opened there was a crowd waiting outside to gain admittance.

This in itself testified to the high standard of the concert that have been given by the pupils of Sir James Douglas School. The audience was quite enthusiastic throughout the evening, and evinced their enjoyment of the variety programme with spontaneous outbursts of applause.

THE PROGRAMME
The programme was as follows: "A Festival in May," executed by Division IX and X, including Little Bo Peep and "The Call of Spring," by Division VII, under the direction of Miss T. Shroder; a recitation, "Wise Frogs," by Jack Smith, Division XII; sea shanties, by Divisions V and VII, in which the pupils were dressed as pirates, sailors and seafaring folk; a dance by junior girls, "Maze On a Tree," choral singing, "A Pastoral Lullaby," by Division IV, under the direction of Miss Rea Bargett; and instrumental trio by Mary, Harry and Frank Brown.

A play, "The Brownies," by Division XII; choral singing, "Rosebud" and "The Big Brown Bear," by Division VIII, conducted by Mrs. E. Smith; dance by the senior girls, "La Jota," string trio, comprising Rhythm Anderson, John Pepper and Ursula Mills; solo solo by Frank Brown, entitled "Meditation," choruses, "The Icicle" and "The Wind," by Division VI, conducted by Cecil Chatterfield; "The Second Minute," directed by Division VII, with Frances Rigby as soloist; dance "Viva," by the intermediate girls; songs by Division II, "Merry Winds of Springtime" and "O Peaceful Night," directed by W. H. Wilson, and a radio play by Division I.

In an Indiana college town, a student called at a boarding house to inquire about rooms.

"And what do you charge for your rooms?" he asked.

"Five dollars up," was the reply. "Yes, but I'm a student," he said, "thinking the price a little high."

"That being the case, the price is five dollars down," replied the landlady, who had had experience.

AFTER WORLD COLLIDE

CHAPTER XIX
It was one of the Bronson Beta ships. It flew fast. It came low, slowed down, circled.

Tony's heart banged as he saw that one of the faces peering over the broad, bearded, strongly Slavic. Another of the occupants had dropped his head and shoulders. People from earth! They completed their inspection, and rushed out of sight toward the northwest.

Tony and Vanderbilt jumped up and ran toward Jack Taylor. The three men met for a frantic moment. "They'll be back," Tony shouted with rage. "The enemy! They'll be back to take over this camp. I wonder if they'll kill the men and carry off the women, as Kyoto suggests. We'll be safe. We'll take the west tide. Wait till the first ship lands—I can take hell out of that field. Then get 'em all!"

They went to their positions again. He was very feeble as he rose, and they supported him. "I'll put a shot in Runciman and Bear and leave first," I suggest. They can help with the others," Tony located Runciman, the brain specialist. Dodson filled a hypodermic time. Williamson returned. "They taught that back in school on earth. The surface temperature of a planet like the earth at sixty-seven million miles distance from the sun—the distance of Venus—would be one hundred and fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit. The mean temperature of the earth, at ninety-three million miles from the sun—where we used to be—was sixty degrees. The mean temperature of the earth, if it were a hundred and forty-one million miles from the sun—the distance of Mars—would be minus thirty-eight—thirty-eight degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

"The earth went around the sun almost in a circle—it never got nearer to the sun than ninety-one million miles, and never got farther away than ninety-four million; so our temperatures there never varied, by season, beyond comfortable limits for most of the surface of the earth.

"But riding this planet, we aren't going around the sun in any such circle; our orbit now is an ellipse, with the sun in a focus but not in the centre. So we'll have a very hot Summer when we go close to Venus, where the surface temperature averages a hundred and fifty-one; but before we get that Summer, we go into Winter over by Mars where normal temperatures average about forty below zero—a hundred degrees less than we're used to. We're headed there now."

Eve returned to the group. She tentative and appreciative audience was thus enabled to get an idea of the principles of the League of Nations, under whose auspices the speaker acted.

It was clear to those present at the end of his address that the world must choose between economic co-operation and competition which leads to war. The League of Nations, it was intimated, is the only possible organization for peace, and the League has been betrayed by the larger nations in the last year. Mr. MacDermot gave an able exposure of the evils of national and international armaments. He showed how an economic war is only a preparation for an armed conflict. Canada was vitally affected and should be keenly interested. She had earned her right by sacrifice in the Great War to nationhood, but was a huge, rich and empty territory.

MILFORD HAVEN, Wales (CP).—When told he was too old for work on the Admiralty's $1,500,000 scheme here, a thirty-five-year-old unemployed man appealed to the authorities for the "old age" pension.

"Does your husband ever quarrel with you?"

"Goodness, no! James is too much of a gentleman. He just goes out and alarms the door!"

Butler continued to drop on yesterday's retail market, all brands coming down one cent per pound. Further reductions are expected on Monday.

Strawberries continue to sell well and with daily arrivals, the price is down to fifteen cents a basket. Within a few weeks, Washington berries will be procurable here at a slightly higher price. It is one of the earliest seasons for strawberries.

WANT TO ASSIST IN BRIDLE PATH
The Oak Bay Council is again being urged by those interested in providing bridle paths for lovers of horseback riding to help in getting more facilities. The council has received from Commander C. H. R. Slingsby the information that those interested in the matter of bridle paths have raised by private subscription some $500 or $600, which it is proposed to turn over to the council of Oak Bay in extending the routes for riders.

One proposal made by the enthusiasts is to construct a path along the side of Lansdowne Road, from Cadboro Bay Road to Poul Bay Road. The deep ditches along part of this highway offer obstacles, but it was suggested at the council meeting on Thursday, by Councillor W. H. McEwen, that it might be possible to have the Hudson's Bay Company move the fence back on one side of the road so as to allow of the work being carried out. The company's fences on both sides of the road are on the right-of-way. It was decided to have a meeting between members of the council and Commander Slingsby to discuss the whole matter.

COMOX, April 27.—Speaking at the Elk Hotel, here, as the guest of the Canadian Club, on Thursday evening, T. W. MacDermot, M.A. (Oxon), gave broad outlines of "A Foreign Policy for Canada" and "Canada and World Peace." An audience of about 100 was present.

It was clear to those present at the end of his address that the world must choose between economic co-operation and competition which leads to war. Department of Labor May Endeavor to Settle Firemen's Dispute Through Intermediary

An effort to settle the wage dispute between the City Council and the firemen without the appointment of a board of conciliation will be made when a representative of the Dominion Department of Labor will be on the coast.

In a telegram from W. M. Dickson, deputy minister of labor, the city was informed yesterday that F. E. Harrison, Western representative of the department, would be visiting the coast shortly.

To quote the telegram: "The Minister of Labor is anxious that Mr. Harrison should be given an opportunity of endeavoring to effect a settlement without the necessity of board procedure, if both parties are agreeable to this course in the meantime."

Camps' College Needs Teachers Of Stout Heart

Frontier Institution of Learning Gives No Degrees But Gets Fine Results in Work Across Canada Among Migratory Men—Has No Fees and No Class Divisions

TORONTO (CP).—No fees limit the registration at Frontier College and no class divisions hamper progress. The student body is the largest of any college in the country and the faculty works with little pay. No degrees are given but the institution gets remarkable results. The lecture room and laboratory of Frontier College may be the common hall of a construction camp—if there is one—the bunkhouse in a relief settlement, or a tent by the roadside.

Perhaps it is just a convenient spot in the bush, in a clearing or on the prairies, with the sky for a roof and a few logs, packing cases or nothing at all for seats.

Even in normal times Frontier College had a wide constituency. Approximately 180,000 men, many of them foreign-born workers, spend at least a part of the year in the various work camps of Canada. During 1933 the institution had an unusual opportunity for meeting the needs of camp men, in the relief work, the Dominion and Provincial Governments have rapidly increased. They now number about 200, with 38,000 single unemployed men provided for under emergency systems of relief.

CONSTRUCTIVE INFLUENCE. It is for "migratory and unlettered" camp men in all parts of the Dominion, whether in supporting occupations or on relief work, that Frontier College tries to provide a stabilizing and constructive influence in the words of a commending newspaper the organization is endeavoring to conserve wholesome manhood among workers in isolated camps.

Frontier College has a Board of Governors composed of prominent men in various walks of life and representative of nearly all the provinces. Reduced necessarily as the result of economic conditions, the budget of $18,000 for the year, except for a grant of $5,000 from the Province of Ontario, is raised almost entirely by contributions from public-spirited men and women.

CAREFULLY SELECTED. Eighty-seven laborer-teachers of the college were located in the various camps across the Dominion during the past year. Still there is a crying demand for more men. These teachers are carefully selected. They must be examples of physical fitness as well as academic qualifications. The personal influence of the instructors is of great importance. They are required to be of high moral standard. University men, ranging in age from twenty-two to thirty, they must be able and willing to fit into the manual work of the camps as well as "professors." They must have had some experience in the work of camps and be leaders of their fellow workers.

Last year 4,853 camp men were enrolled in classes for study—elementary English for the foreign-born nationals and primary and secondary work for the English and French-speaking men. Ten thousand men benefited by general classes in

ALTERATIONS MADE IN BUILDINGS—Brighten Premier's Quarters

To the accompaniment of an industrial orchestra of hammers and saws, an office-transfer game of "musical chairs" has again broken out at the Legislative Buildings. When the music stops, the Surveyor-General, the registrar of companies and certain draughtsmen in the geographic branch will have settled down in new locations.

Robert Baird, senior official in the Municipal Department, will occupy the suite now used by the Surveyor-General. P. C. Green, Surveyor-General, will have a remodeled office made out of part of the former geographic quarters. H. G. Gerrard, registrar of companies, will occupy Mr. Baird's former office in quarters extended on the second floor. The geographic staff, displaced by the move, will be located in the former quarters of the architects, where two adjoining rooms are to be inter-connected.

Across the west lobby, the Premier's office is being renovated and redecorated during the absence of the Premier in the East.

The present alterations are the second major series of removals carried out this year. The previous change was to consolidate Workers' department offices in the east wing to make room for offices for the assistant to the Premier, the new Economic Council and others appointed at that time.

Over-crowding at the Legislative Buildings has been a problem faced by Provincial architects for many years. When money is available, the architects have advised the removal of a hall of records and a new museum block to lighten congestion in the main pile.

Police Chief Thomas Heatley, commencing Monday, will bring into being a more strict control of juveniles riding bicycles. In announcing his plan to have cyclists obey all rules of the road, including giving and observing of motor signs, refraining from riding on sidewalks or doing careless manoeuvres and equipping their machines with proper night lights and reflectors, the chief last night warned that a close check-up will be kept.

Beginning Monday, police officers will give all cyclists committing infractions of the law a blue card summoning them to appear in the chief's office on the following Saturday. Duplicate cards, bearing the offender's name and address, will be placed on file at headquarters. For their first offence, Chief Heatley will take no action, but will merely explain to the cyclist the need for them to observe traffic laws and regulations. Those committing a second offence will answer charges in Juvenile Court.

This measure comes as the result of many complaints from automobile drivers over the disregard for signs by cyclists. It is also expected to act in the interests of cyclists, resulting in fewer accidents.

HIGH PRAISE EARNED BY B.C. ACTORS

Adjudicator Declares "Elizabeth the Queen" Success of the Evening

HOUSE PACKED AT DRAMATIC FESTIVAL

OTTAWA, April 27 (AP).—Enthusiastic praise was showered by James T. Grein, Dominion Drama Festival adjudicator, upon the Vancouver Little Theatre Association's performance of the third act of "Elizabeth the Queen" here tonight.

It was "the success of the evening," he declared. The playing of the role of Queen Elizabeth he declared a "wonderful performance."

A WONDERFUL SCENE. "It was a wonderful thing in raising a love scene with a man about to have his head shaved off to the sublime," he informed the crowded auditorium in referring to the final moving meeting of Queen Elizabeth with the Earl of Essex.

The part of Essex he characterized as "so simple, noble." The whole performance was a credit to the actors who had come so far to play in the festival.

An enthusiastic and interested audience witnessed the three plays which constituted tonight's fifth performance of the festival. The contestants were drawn from Kingston, London and Vancouver, with the groups playing in the other named cities.

The Governor-General and Lady Beesborough were again present, and the audience crammed the theatre.

The first play, "Submerged," by H. Stuart Cotton and Le Vergne Shaw, brought the Queen's University Dramatic Guild before the footlights in a dramatic and depressing picture of the last moments of a sunken submarine.

SOME CRITICISMS. Criticism of the piece was offered by Mr. Grein. Some of the characters had forgotten to speak clearly at times, he said. The lighting had not been good, and the actors were handicapped thereby. There had, however, been manifest a strong desire on the part of the players to lose their identities in the characters they were portraying, and that was good.

The London Drama League, of the Western Ontario region, presented Mr. J. M. Barrie's lovely little play, "Half an Hour."

"This play is very near to my heart," said Mr. Grein. He had an office near James Barrie in London, and he revered the great dramatist greatly. He had seen the play a score of times, played by great actors. He would make no comparisons.

A HEAVY TASK. The play was one which imposed upon its actors a heavy task, the adjudicator continued. He criticized the playing of the two principal roles, and praised one of the other parts.

Tomorrow, the final day of the festival, there will be two performances.

Repay One Good Turn by Another

CHICAGO, April 27 (CP).—Last December, Leonard Danielson, twenty-eight, an electrical engineer, was trapped in a $125,000 mill fire, entailed the blazing mill and rescued him.

Danielson repaid the debt. Schrank was trapped on the twelfth story of the mill, which was again in flames. Climbing the blazing stairway, Danielson rescued him.

Fashion Show Held in Setting of Real Beauty

Style Revue Held by Angus Campbell & Co. Ltd. at Spring Flower Exhibition at Willows—To Be Repeated This Evening

No more charming setting could have been found for a fashion parade yesterday afternoon than among the flowers at the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association Spring Flower Show at the Willows. The styles were shown by Angus Campbell & Co. Ltd. and some particularly lovely creations were on display.

An elaborately built stage had been erected at the north end of the exhibition building, and from a flower-decked bower, white gates opened out on to the platform and runway, along which the mannequins paraded. Two tiny pages, Nedra Mitchell and Beverly Francis, acted as safe keepers, and little Miss Ethel Gillis announced the appearance of the various groups of style models.

The mannequins were Mrs. Fred Cabeldu, the Misses D. and K. Morrison, Miss Ball, Miss Knapton and Miss Gorton.

SWAGGER SUITS
Imported swagger suits headed the list, and two and three-piece models in the very latest colors and cut on modish lines combined charm of style, suitability for many occasions and a high degree of smartness. Beige, green and navy blue were especially attractive colors and the jaunty little hats matched the suits. Light tweed hats were particularly smart with the swagger ensembles.

SILK ENSEMBLES
Silk ensembles are always popular and smart for early summer wear, those shown including a very striking combination of black and red crepe, worn by Mrs. Cabeldu, while a brown and white crepe, with white pleated collar and cuffs, and a navy and white silk ensemble, both showed the vogue for coin dots in white.

DAYTIME FROCKS
Plain coats combined with printed silk effect and trimmed with green styles for daytime wear. When a combination of navy blue and white, with a smart hat trimmed with a band of navy and white ribbon, was both striking and really becoming. Stripes, as well as flower and dotted patterns were effective, and with an ensemble in shades of rust and brown, a plain brown coat was worn.

One of the most charming of the informal afternoon frocks was a navy blue dress, with palest pink ruffled jabot at the neckline. Mrs. Cabeldu modeled a long cafe au lait dress, with a smart hat trimmed with a band of navy and white ribbon, and relying on tiny pink tucks in pattern, as trimming. With this she wore a very large dark brown, stitched silk hat, with a soft brim. Fine pleating provided the trimming on a blue redingote and a yacht blue crepe dress, made with cape effect and trimmed with green.

Evening frocks were shown to advantage by Miss D. Morrison. Miss Knapton showed a charming blue sheer dress, with fitted front and cuffs and a red belt.

FORMAL AFTERNOON FROCKS
For formal afternoons and summer dances, the feminine trend worked itself into some lovely creations. All the flowers from the loveliest of gardens must have been the inspiration of the designers of the flowered chiffons and silks, and flowers even wore their way into the newest of the patterned neckties, which are worn over tulle or lace, and sometimes made of the same or contrasting materials and sometimes of the crisp organizes which give that new "windblown" effect to the fashions of Summer of 1934.

The sheer Summer party frocks have their little lacquered of tulle, or organza, giving that little bit of extra warmth.

Laces of silk, and the new linen, too, in the most alluring colors, have lost none of their appeal, and most women realize that at least one is important to their wardrobe.

BRIDAL GROUP

The bridal group was particularly beautiful. Miss Ball took the part of the bride, her gown of lustrous white satin being made on long graceful lines, with a yoke of fine lace, finished at the high neckline with a band of hand-made white satin flowers. The skirt, moulded to the figure, flared out to a short train, and her embroidered veil and lovely bouquet of roses completed the exquisite picture.

Her two attendants, Miss D. Morrison, in a frock of pale green net, made with a cape, and Miss K. Morrison, in pink frilled point d'esprit, made most lovely attendants, and the wide brims of the hats which matched their frocks were shoulder width. They, too, carried lovely bouquets of flowers.

DANCE PROGRAMME
Between the fashion groups, pupils Miss Florence Clough delighted the audience with dance numbers. Miss Thelma Ackerman appearing in a skirt dance; Thelma Stratford in a ballet dance, and the following in a cleverly arranged chorus: Iace Roskelley, Joan Webb, Beverly Francis, Donna Davis and Nedra Mitchell. A tap dance by little Velda Willie and Beverly Armstrong completed the programme. The fashion show will be repeated this evening at 8 o'clock.

Cavemen may not have known what real love was, but they gave a girl a rough idea.

"BLONDE HAIR MADE LIGHTER AND LOVELIER"

Says Mrs. J. W. T.

"I was so discouraged by my muddy-looking hair, I added years to my appearance. Then a friend told me about BLONDEX. The very first time I shampooed with BlonDEX my hair actually showed new life and color, looked shades lighter and brighter." Use BLONDEX is good advice for blondes whose hair is darkening, losing its golden charm. BlonDEX, the fine rich-creaming powder shampoo (not a dye), helps bring back the youthful gleam of radiant, gold, silvery softness and sheen to dull, faded, stringy light hair. Try it today. BLONDEX comes in two sizes—the economical $1.00 and inexpensive 25c package. At any drug or department store. NEW: Have you tried BlonDEX Wave-Set? Doesn't darken light hair.

Audience Clamors for Speech at Performance

James McGrath Players Accorded Unusually Enthusiastic Ovation at Close of Initial Performance of 'The Rotters'—Will Appear Again

With the exception of eminent imported shows, it is questionable whether any theatrical performance has been accorded so insistent a round of applause as that which greeted the close of "The Rotters," produced by the James McGrath Players in the Shrine Auditorium last night.

The wholehearted enthusiasm of the audience, and the quality of the acting were both reminiscent of the Gordon McLeod Players' performances, after which last night's presentation was modeled. The audience, numbering approximately 600, was so insistent in its ovation that the curtain was raised five times at the close of the last act, and still the patrons clamored for a speech from Mr. McGrath, who assured the audience that further productions would be given by the company, members of which greatly appreciated the reception accorded the first production. The next play, he said, would be "Lord Babs."

In "The Rotters," plenty of scope is given each member of the cast, but the major responsibilities are assumed by the characters Mr. and Mrs. Clugston, the former a J.P. and the latter a housewife, respectively.

DIALLECT SUSTAINED
The Lancashire dialect was well sustained throughout the entire three acts by these two. It was a task difficult to handle as the lines in most cases required rapid speech, and at times agitation, all of which made it even more difficult to keep the dialect consistent. Apparently there were quite a number of Lancashire persons in the audience, judging from the ripples of laughter that greeted some of the expressions that evoked merriment among those who really appreciate the dialect.

The play was replete with humor from start to finish. When the audience was not giving itself up to hilarity, it would be chuckling over some witicism, or peculiar Lancashire mannerism.

Mr. McGrath ably portrayed the role of the "respectable" head of a family, which eventually ally was shown up in its true colors, including the most "respectable" of them all, Mr. Clugston.

SHARES HONORS
Mabel Ridley shared the honors with Mr. McGrath. Next in the honor list was Archie MacCordale, who portrayed the part of a flirtatious chauffeur, whom Mr. Clugston considered a "perfect gentleman" until she discovered he was married.

Muriel Thompson, as Winnie; Alan King as Percy, and Edith Cole as Bessie, all members of the Clugston family, added their quota of fun to a perfectly hilarious opera.

Others deserving of particular mention were: Betty Jennings as Phoebe, a maid; Noel Cusack, as a strange lady, and Douglas Pincoff as Inspector Wick, who, incidentally, portrayed the role of a policeman brought out all the humor necessary without burlesque or without becoming ludicrous.

Mrs. Beatrice Stone provided the music. Several members of the company were presented with bouquets of flowers at the close of the play, while many members of the audience backed after the performance to congratulate members of the cast, and express the hope that the company would be able to maintain a definite schedule of productions in Victoria.

Saanichton

Bridge prizes were awarded as follows: first lady, Mrs. G. A. Gorman; first gentleman, Mr. Elliot, of Shirley; consolation, Miss M. Peatt and Mr. G. H. Jones; for five hundred, ten-bid, Mrs. N. ## STUDENTS GIVE DRAMATIC PLAY

High School Presents Barrie's "Mary Rose"—Will Show Again Tonight

When Sir J. M. Barrie wrote that dainty little play, "Mary Rose," he must have had in mind the spirit of youth and the tragedy of age around which he had woven the threads of the expedition, and had, perhaps, stolen just a little from memory's lane.

"Mary Rose," the name itself implying innocence and blossoming youth, was performed by the students of the High School, here, last night, as their matriculation play, and they are to be congratulated upon the selection of the piece and the successful portrayal of the author's work. The play is to be given again tonight in the Assembly Hall at Victoria High School.

PAST AND PRESENT
The play itself is well known and needs but little description. It is a play of the present in a prologue and slips back thirty odd years to the days of youth and gaiety, and then returns to the present with its air of dusty atmosphere, which holds but little of comfort and cheer. Hollow and forlorn is the old man. It holds nothing but memories of a glittering past. The scenes change and all the while a young Australian watches the pageant of life move onward.

Palmer, who plays the part of Mary Rose, occupies the centre of the piece. She was indeed a dainty, flaxen-haired Mary Rose, and her charming manner completely captured the hearts of the audience. For one so young she carried her part with the ease and grace of a more experienced player. Ormond Marriot, as the juvenile Simon, seemed to fit nicely into the cast, and his characterization of the low-down young sailor, as Harry, an Australian soldier, had plenty to do in the opening prologue and lived his part, and the role of Mrs. Otery, a prim and proper caretaker of the old man, was well taken by Opal Abercrombie.

TYPICAL CHARACTERS
Two characters in the play that caught the fancy of the audience were Mr. Amy, the clerkman, and Mr. Morland, the squire, the former played by Leighton and the latter by Peter Jones. They were typical of the times. Mary Smyth, as Mrs. Morland, made a charming picture of the squire's wife, a little too charming for the squire, appeared a trifle too meek and mild to have ever captured the youthful Mr. Morland, Cameron, a High School student, played the squire, completed the well balanced cast.

The play was directed by Miss Eileen Tomlin, and the success of her efforts was her reward for her skill in rounding out a group of players of the ability displayed in the presentation of "Mary Rose." The stage setting and lighting were good, and taking all in all, the audience enjoyed an evening of worth-while entertainment. The students of Victoria High School need not be timid about expressing their praise of their own dramatic group.

RETURNED TO CANADA

Beds Made In Canada Displayed

The "round the clock" fashion parade given yesterday to a large gathering of members and friends of the Women's Auxiliary to the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion proved an excellent show. Miss F. M. Sparling, who demonstrated the value of Wabasco cotton, which is a purely Canadian production, showed the many garments into which this cotton could be made. Many fascinating patterns, which are color-fast, were exhibited, and articles including an attractive luncheon set, curtains, dresses, aprons, bed spreads and numerous other articles were shown.

For the occasion the platform was transformed into a bedroom, where a bed by Simmons, Ltd., was displayed. Miss Sparling gave a talk on this subject, telling of different types of Simmons beds.

Miss Sparling, who is from Toronto, has completed a tour across Canada, having visited the leading cities and has given demonstrations of the cotton and also beds by Simmons, Ltd. She will leave today on her return trip.

Minister to Officiate at Flower Show

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, will officiate at the formal opening of the Royal Oak Women's Institute annual Spring flower show to be held next Wednesday afternoon at Royal Oak Hall. The formal opening will be at 3 o'clock, but the show will be open from 2:30 to 6 p.m. The district is famous for its beautiful flowers and shrubs, and a splendid display of Spanish bloom is assured.

In addition to the flowers, there will be a stall of home-cooking, and ice-cream and afternoon tea will be served. An attraction on the "side" will be fortune-telling.

DEVOTED NURSE WELL REWARDED

Receives Request of $225,000 on Death of Patient Suffering From Fractured Spine

TEMPLECOMBE, Somerset, England, April 27 (CP).—A nurse's devotion to her mistress who lived for four years with a fractured spine after a hunting accident, was rewarded, yesterday, with a bequest of $225,000.

The bequest was contained in the will of Miss Ella Mavourneen Dyck, widow of a Chertown House, near here, and the beneficiary was Miss Millicent Anne Moule. Subject to some specific bequests, all the estate, probated today, was awarded to "my dear nurse."

Miss Wise was thrown from a horse while hunting in Blackmore Vale more than four years ago, and from that time until her death, recently, was nursed constantly by Miss Moule, who now lives in Cornwall.

Little Bedtime Stories

Why the Plans of the Rats Failed
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

You remember that the rats in the big barn had agreed that if Billy Mink should return they would all attack him at once and kill him or frighten him so that he would leave and never return. It was a perfectly good plan. Billy was more than a match for any single rat. He might be more than a match for any two rats. But he had to fight all the rats at once he wouldn't have the smallest chance in the world.

All those rats had been very bold and brave when they had met to plan how they should get rid of this new enemy. Especially bold and brave had been the younger rats. They had agreed that the instant they heard the signal they would rush to do their part in the attack on Billy Mink. Only the wise, grey old leader had been doubtful. He had not let the others know that he was doubtful, for they would not have done at all.

But he knew that the younger rats did not know, which was that born in every rat is great fear of all members of Billy Mink's family. A fear so great that when it is aroused all else is forgotten. He knew that such fear becomes terror and terror destroys courage. It makes cowards of even those who are thought to be brave. So the grey, old leader was doubtful, and that doubt increased the fear which the very thought of Billy Mink filled him with.

Now the grey, old leader was not a coward himself. He would never have become a leader if he had been a coward. When he heard that danger signal he scrambled out of the nest where he had been taking a nap and hurried forth to lead his tribe in the great fight they had planned. Almost at once he met one of the loudest boasters.

Next story: "The Rats Leave the Big Barn"

among the younger rats, and this fellow was running in the opposite direction from the way he should have been going. More than this, he was squealing with fright. Then another and another and still another raced frantically past, each squealing with fright. He could not stop them. They were crazy with fear and gave him no heed.

They were crazy with fear and gave him no heed.

They were crazy with fear and gave him no heed.

They were crazy with fear and gave him no heed.

They were crazy with fear and gave him no heed.

SAYS NO NEED TO SUPERSEDE LEGISLATURE

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., Criticizes Course Taken by Pattullo Government

BUSINESS MEN HEAR REVIEW OF SESSION

Under the S.P.A., the Provincial Government, while it could deal with the natural resources of the province without the consent of the members of the Legislature, could go beyond the powers of the statutes covering the timber resources, for instance, and sell the timber. It took the power to borrow on the sole credit of the Province and cancel property and civil rights possessed by the people.

While it was not to be supposed that the Government would do some of these things, the question arose, "Then why take the extraordinary powers?" asked Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., speaking before a joint luncheon meeting of the Credit Granters of the city and the Capital City Commercial Club, yesterday, in Spencer's dining-room.

The bill which had been the most contentious at the recent session was the S.P.A. If the Government had asked the Legislature for powers which it thought it would need with regard to certain lines of action, the speaker said there would have been no trouble in obtaining it, in his opinion. Instead of that, how-

Governor Made Chief of Indian Tribe

The visit of the Governor-General and Lady Beaulieu to Southern Alberta brought a number of interesting experiences. First, they were shown through the great million-dollar Mormon Temple at Cardston—a rare privilege granted only to non-communicants by the head of the church, President Heber J. Grant, of Salt Lake City; and second, His Excellency was made a chief of the Blood tribe of Indians, the famous fighting tribe of the once-powerful Blackfoot Confederacy. The picture shows His Excellency and Lady Beaulieu with High Chief Shot-Both-Sides standing between them. The photo was taken following the traditional and colorful ceremonies at St. Paul's Indian residential school (Anglican), the principal of which, Rev. Canon Middleton, stands just behind Chief Shot-Both-Sides. His Excellency's tribal name is Ae-Ma-Na, meaning "The Great Chief." The head-dress is a gorgeous creation made by the best artists of the tribe.

FAY BAKER NOW AT THE EMPIRE

Beautiful Fan Dancer Appearing Locally for Short Engagement—Widely Known

Chicago achieved two distinctions in the year 1933. It was the scene of the great Century of Progress Exposition. And it was the home of the fan dancer. The World's Fair attained world fame early in its history, but the first fan dancer to attain world fame is Fay Baker, beautiful ex-Pollies girl, appearing at the Empire Theatre, today, whose interpretation of this popular act is a feature of her performance that makes it unique in the use of brilliantly-colored ostrich fans that reflect the light like a prairie sunset.

"Let's Fall in Love" Is Lifting Drama of Hollywood Life—Strong Cast

Tala Brell says she owes her present prominence on the stage and screen to a school friend who coaxed her to appear in an amateur show; to Max Reinhardt, the European impresario, who gave her her professional start; and to Mariene Dietrich, the motion picture star, who helped her to secure her first leading role on the European stage.

Edmund Lowe and Ann Sothern are featured in "Let's Fall in Love," a Columbia musical of Hollywood life, showing at the Capitol Theatre today. Others in the supporting cast are Miriam Jordan, Gregory Ratoff, Arthur Jarrett, Betty Furness and Greta Meyer. David Burton directed from an original screen story by Herbert Fields. Song numbers were written by Arien and Koehler, composers of "Stormy Weather," "Minnie the Moocher," "I've Got a Right to Sing the Blues" and a score of other popular tunes.

DOMINION Al Jolson heads the all-star cast at the Dominion, today, in "Wonder Bar," the mammoth musical revue produced by Warner Bros. Kay Francis, Dick Powell, Dolores Del Rio, Ricardo Cortez and Guy Kibbee are also seen in the cast.

COLUMBIA Colonel Tim McCoy, star of Columbia's "Voice in the Night," is now showing at the Columbia Theatre, answers to the Indian name of Ae-Ma-Na.

ACT OF REPUDIATION

The Revenue Act, which was passed, was a repudiation act by the Government. It took away the power of the Legislature to approve of the loan acts and the Government took to itself the power to borrow all it liked without coming to the Legislature.

A most objectionable feature was that it gave the Government the power to set the date when any loan would be repaid. By giving two weeks' notice in The Gazette, a loan could be cancelled and interest stopped upon it.

One often heard of the "sanction of covenants." The right to interfere with the conditions upon which money had been borrowed would, he feared, have the effect of cutting off loans which might be required within the province to develop the natural resources of the country.

In one case, however, this repudiation was not allowed to act. This was with regard to the inscribed stock which was held in London. In Britain, repudiation of contracts was not allowed.

FEWER MEMBERS ASKED

Mr. Anscomb had opposed the amendment to the Constitution Act, by which a new member was added to the Legislature. He felt this was not a time to make the change. There was rather a demand for fewer members instead of more of them.

In passing, the speaker alluded to the fact that while four or five members represented areas of the province in the Legislature, the same area was represented by one member at Ottawa. He did not believe that four members were needed for Victoria, when one member represented the same population at Ottawa.

The local member dealt with his own position regarding the bill that came from the City Council to the Legislature. One of these was for leave to refund some $220,000, as was done in preceding years. Another was to allow for the refunding of the Esquimalt Waterworks, while the third was with respect to the cold storage situation.

Concerning the Goldstream situation, Mr. Anscomb felt that unless the city were given the power to refund to redeem the $400,000 falling due, the position of affairs might be aggravated with respect to the cold storage. It was simply a matter of ever, the Government had taken the power to supersede the power of the Legislature for two sessions. The local member said that if the Government had fear of a crisis arising, which he himself did not believe was to be expected, then the Government would not do this. When it became necessary the members could be called together without extra indemnity to deal with the position of affairs. But the speaker said that he did not present the situation from the standpoint of the political parties, but rather from the viewpoint of the ordinary citizen, who had the bill to pay in any event.

Selecting the major measures that came before the House, Mr. Anscomb referred to the moratorium bill, which he said he opposed on the principle of the act. He did not believe in undoing what people had done as free agents, which was the case when a mortgage was placed upon the construction of a building. He was of the opinion that capital and labor had to go hand in hand. The one in effect before, made it possible for the court registrar to go into the merits of the case and then his finding went to the court. The judge could either approve of this or alter the arrangements.

The chiropractic bill was reviewed and while he did not know all the merits with regard to the case put up by the opposite sides, he voted for the measure because, when a person was sick, he could decide for himself.

On the Laidner Bridge proposition, Mr. Anscomb said he did not like the attitude of the Government in announcing it was cancelling an agreement entered into by a former Government and agreed to by the Legislature. He did not approve of repudiation of agreements. He was not, however, called upon to take the position, the company agreed to cut out the guarantee by the Government and the right to share in the profits on the operation. He felt himself that by the time the bridge was completed, public opinion in the vicinity would force the Government to take it over and would also force the operation of it as a non-profit bridge.

"IN THE LION'S MOUTH"

We have an inquiry for the origin of the expression "in the lion's mouth," meaning to enter into a situation of great danger.

The use of the phrase, "in the lion's mouth," in this connection comes to us from the Bible. We find it first in the Old Testament, in the Book of Psalms, in Psalm xxii, 17: "For dogs have compassed me; the assembly of the wicked have enclosed me: like lions (they threaten) my hands and my feet." "Save me from the lion's mouth; as thou has answered me from the horns of the reem."

In the New Testament, also, we find the phrase. In Timothy, Chapter iv, 17, we find: "Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear; and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion."

PROVINCE CUP FOOTBALL IS SCHEDULED TODAY

Province and Nationales to Meet in Canadian Hoop Play-Offs Again Tonight

Rivals Confident On Eve of Second Match of Finals

Westerners Figure to Make It Two in Row, While Easterners Hope to Even Series—Referees Will Not Be Appointed Until Today

MONTREAL, April 27 (CP).—One game to the good, the sterling Vancouver Province basketball team takes the court here tomorrow night, hoping for a second victory and an almost overwhelming advantage in the Dominion senior men's basketball championship.

The Province quintette defeated Montreal Nationale, conquerors of the East, 42-40, here, last night, as the best, three-out-of-five series opened, but the Eastern representatives are confident the teams will be even when the final whistle blows tomorrow.

The third game will be played here Monday, with the fourth and fifth, if necessary, Tuesday and Thursday.

COACHES CONFIDENT
Rival coaches were modestly confident tonight. Nationale held a get-together tonight, when each player in turn picked out weaknesses of the team in the initial tilt, and suggested remedies. They agreed the team lacked the fight that had characterized its march through Eastern Canadian play-downs. All were confident they would be at their peak tomorrow night.

Province rested after the game, which was played only a few hours after the long train ride from Winnipeg. They felt that if they could equal their remarkable shooting in the first games, all would be well. Coach "Chuck" Jones said he believed Nationale was capable of better basketball than it exhibited last night.

REFEREES UNANNOUNCED
Referees will be appointed tomorrow, after arrival of C. G. Harris, of Halifax, secretary of the Eastern section, Canadian Amateur Basketball Association.

Vancouver has been carrying Jerry Porter, in the hope of using him, but Jim Hornstein, president of the Quebec association, nominated Sam Levy and Frank Sharpe, Montreal, who officiated in the first game.

Manchester and Portsmouth Await Game

ENGLISH Cup time is with us once again, and this year Manchester City and Portsmouth are grooming themselves for the struggle that will draw more than 100,000 people to Wembley today. The top illustration shows the Portsmouth team, the first to be received on this side of the Atlantic. A fine team who have played well all season, being well up in the First Division, they have yet to win the coveted cup, though they lost the final in 1929 to Bolton. The team is: Back row, left to right: J. Nichol, right half; A. Mackie, right back; J. Gilfillan, goal; J. Allen, centre half; W. Smith, left back. Front row: J. Worrall, outside right; J. Smith, inside right; J. Weddie, centre forward; D. Thackeray, left half (captain); J. Eason, inside left; S. Rutherford, outside left. The lower illustration is the Manchester City team, the other finalist. This is Manchester's second try in two years. They were beaten out by Everton last year. The team is: Top, left to right: Ridley, Busby, Swift, Langford, Bray, Barnett, Alec Bell (trainer). Lower, left to right: Toxeland, Dale, Felton, Tilson and Brook.

Stanley Tennis Club To Be Opened Today

The official opening of the Stanley tennis courts, previously known as the Knox Tennis Club, Stanley Avenue, will take place today at 2 p.m. Members and their friends are invited to be present. Refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

"Experience is our greatest teacher, isn't it?"
"Yes, and there's no holding back her salary, either."

Colwood Club Title Won by Mrs. Bennett In Decisive Manner

Defeats Mrs. Abell in Eighteen-Hole Final, 8 and 6, to Win Golf Honors—Prizes Are Presented—Officers for Year Named

Stroking her way to victory with extreme ease, Mrs. Bennett captured the women's championship of the Royal Colwood Golf Club, yesterday afternoon, by defeating Mrs. Abell in the eighteen-hole final, 8 and 6. The result was never in doubt from the start, the winner taking an early lead, which she steadily increased as the match progressed, ending the tussle on the twelfth green.

Mrs. J. H. Richardson took first flight honors by downing Mrs. Rasmussen, 4 and 3, while Miss Fitzgibbon won from Mrs. C. E. Wilson in the second flight, 3 and 2. Third flight went to Mrs. Macdonald by 4-and-3 victory over Miss E. Michaels. Par competition honors in "A" class were won by Mrs. Semple, who finished 4 down, while Mrs. Huse took the "B" laurels, being 3 down.

Following the completion of the various finals, competitors and spectators gathered in the clubhouse where Mrs. Graham-Graham, wife of the president of the Colwood Club, presented the championship cup and other prizes to the list of winners. As each winner approached the table, she was congratulated by Mrs. Graham-Graham, who also had a word of praise for the runners-up.

Election of officers for the ensuing year also took place. Miss Fitzgibbon was elected captain and Mrs. Crowe was the choice for the secretaryship again. The executive committee will be as follows: Mrs. Abell, Mrs. Macfarlane and Dr. Luden.

GOLF OFFICERS ARE SELECTED

Directors, committees and other officials of the Gorge Vale Golf Club were elected at the annual meeting—Dr. Baillie President Again

The list of officials follows: Directors, Dr. D. M. Baillie (president), A. R. Wolfenden, Frank Thomas, C. F. Banfield, H. H. Allen and J. G. Smart. R. C. Field was re-elected as auditor. The match committee will be as follows: W. A. Hummerstone (captain), H. D. Reid (vice-captain), W. Marshall, F. Thomas and V. M. Galloway.

The membership committee, with C. F. Banfield as chairman, will be F. Thomas, M. H. Barry, W. Marshall and W. A. Hummerstone. The house committee will be made up of Dr. D. M. Baillie and C. F. Banfield. Annual reports were tendered and all were adopted as satisfactory.

Dime Ball Attracts Big Mainland Crowd

VANCOUVER, April 27 (CP).—Dime baseball, played under lights which cost nearly $15,000 to install, got away with a bang here tonight when the Terminal Baseball League played to a capacity attendance of 6,000. Anahis, Japanese squad, outplayed Rhinos Jewelers 4-2 in a snappy game.

Jimmy McLarnin, world's welterweight champion, was given a big ovation when he helped in the opening ceremony by banging a hit through the infield.

World's Shot-Put Record Beaten by Decisive Margin

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 27 (AP).—A man mountain from the South, named Jack Torrance, of Louisiana State University, smashed all existing records for the shot-put by an even two feet, with a toss of 55 feet 1 1/2 inches, in the preliminaries of the Drake Silver Anniversary relay carnival, today.

Torrance, a 275-pound football tackle, achieved his world's record-breaking performance in his last trial, to shatter all records, either recognized in competition or claimed. He tossed the 16-pound shot out into space to wipe out the best previous effort, made by Franz Bouda, of Czechoslovakia, in 1932.

VICTORIA WEST TO MEET THISTLES XI IN DISTRICT FINAL

Local First Division Teams All Set for Important Match This Afternoon at Enclosure—Kick-Off Billed for 2:45—Juveniles to Play for Colonist Cup in Preliminary

Like in the Old Country, the soccer spotlight will focus on cup matches in local circles this afternoon. In the feature attraction, Victoria West will battle it out with Saanich Thistles in the district final of the Province Cup competition in the first division of the Pacific Coast Football League at the Royal Athletic Park at 2:45. The preliminary tussle will see Victoria West Clubs and Marigold Aces clashing in the Colonist Cup knockout series in the Royal Juvenile Athletic Association, starting at 1:30 o'clock. Overtime will be played in both matches, if necessary.

Kreen interest has marked the Province Cup, so far to date, the Wests noting out Victoria City last week, 1-0, to reach the final bracket, while Saanich put out the strong Esquimalt eleven some weeks ago by the odd marker in three. This means that two well-matched machines will take the field. Survivors will meet the winners of the Nanaimo-St. Saviours' tussle in the first round proper.

CHANGES TEAM
For a second successive week, Doc Poynter, veteran manager of the Wests, has changed his line-up. Tommy Musgrave, who has been out for a couple of weeks, will be back and will be patrolling right wing, a position which was noticeably weak last game. The boss of the greenshirts has also decided to start a second division player, Shorty Collins, at left wing. Against Art Griffiths will guard the net with Jack Okell and Ditchy Thompson in front rank, while the starting forward line will be Musgrave, Robinson, Youson, Peers and Collins. With the second division team idle plenty of reserve material will be on hand in the following: Painter, Reside, Patterson and Spavin. Alf Hood, goalie, will also be available in case anything happens to Griffiths.

However, Manager Jack Price has left nothing undone during the week and has the Thistles in the best of shape for the important engagement. The reliable Wally Rowe will be guarding the sticks, while Freddie Gibbons and Sammy Easler will be on the back division. Roy Williams, Joe Crowe and George Leggett will be on the half line, while the following forwards will be available, Les Gibbons, Edgar Borden, Danny Clancy, Noel Morgan, Eddie Viggers, Danny Telfer, E. Brown and McCaig.

JUVENILES TO PLAY
The preliminary should be a good appetizer for the main attraction. All the season's youngsters have been playing fine ball, but to uncrowded side lines, so the fans who make it their business to arrive at the enclosure earlier than usual will see two smart teams in action. Marigold won the league championship by noosing out the Wests by a lone point, so the young greenshirts will be out with a strong team with hopes of lifting the prized trophy, donated by the morning newspaper.

BROUGHT RUGBY INTO COLLEGES

Rev. Dr. Schaff, Visitor Here, Introduced Game Back in 1873

Victoria has an interesting visitor in the person of Rev. Dr. David S. Schaff, eighty-two years old, who claims to have introduced Rugby football into college life in the United States, when he coached Yale University team in 1873.

Dr. Schaff recalls memories of the first game which his team won. Prior to that, English Rugby was generally being played, and out of that developed the present American game, he says.

HOLIDAY IN HAWAII
With his wife, the doctor has just come to Victoria from the Hawaiian Islands, and will remain here until some time next week, when they will leave for their home in Washington. In Hawaii, Dr. Schaff had an opportunity to study the people and he says he was very much impressed by their benevolent disposition, which, it appears, is customary with the people as a whole.

There are, Dr. Schaff said, approximately 360,000 people in the seven islands formerly known as the Sandwich Islands, and he says that the people are a mixture of Japanese, Filipino, Chinese, Portuguese and Porto Ricans, the white race being the smallest in population. All these races mix freely in the schools and the English language is almost the universal tongue there. Education is compulsory and is free, and run with such alacrity that it will be necessary to cover the track with asbestos to keep it from burning up. Asbestos is very expensive, and the promoters of the race are desirous of staying as closely within the bounds of economy as is consistent without seeming penurious.

ORDAINED IN 1877
Dr. Schaff is a Presbyterian, being ordained to the ministry in 1877. He was professor of Christian history in Lane Seminary, Cincinnati, from 1887 to 1903, professor of ecclesiastical history at the Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, up to 1925, and in that year became lecturer on American Christian history at the Union Theological Seminary in New York. He was a delegate at the celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of John Calvin's birth at Prague, in 1909, and a delegate to the Pan-Protestant Council in Aberdeen, Scotland, in 1913.

He served as president of the American commission for the revision of the authorized version of the Bible.

"Have you ever been here before, sir?" asked the barber.
"Yes, once."
"I don't seem to remember your face, sir."
"Oh, it's healed up since then."

Baseball teams for the special holiday fixture to be played at the Oak Bay Park, on May 24, in conjunction with the track and field programme, were announced, yesterday, by officials of the J.B.A.A. and Oak Bay Club, the competing teams. The oarsmen will line up as follows: McLintyre, pitcher; Beewater, catcher; Hughes, first base; McDonald, second base; Shanks, third base; Moore, shortstop; Hutchinson, left field; Hall, centre field; Craig, right field; Brandy, left field; Baker, third base; C. Dunaway, shortstop; C. McDonald, right field; B. Colson, centre field; E. Oravlin, left field; J. Baker, reserve.

Joe Wright, Jr., Still Seriously Ill in Hospital

TORONTO, April 27 (CP).—The condition of Joe Wright, Jr., noted oarsman and Diamond Sculls winner in 1928, remained serious tonight, hospital authorities reported. Wright suffered an internal hemorrhage yesterday. Dr. T. A. Robinson, Wright's physician, said the Argonaut Rowing Club captain and coach was given a blood transfusion which strengthened him to some degree during the day. In the same hospital with Wright his mother lies ill. His father is confined to his bed at home, suffering from shock.

An Unusual Name—"Almighty High God" was a patient at the Cherokee State Hospital for the insane, Iowa, who, aside from the delusion that he was God come to earth to mingle with his subjects, was sane enough to be allowed freedom of the grounds. He improved his time by raising bees. He was allowed to sell the honey and to deposit his profits in the local bank. When opening his account in the bank, he had trouble in signing his name as he insisted he was "Almighty High God." Finally, the bankers, having investigated his case, humored him by entering his account as he desired.

WARNEKE WINS THIRD STRAIGHT FOR CHICAGO

Hartnett's Single In Eleventh Gives Cubs 3-2 Victory

Pinch Hit Sends Cuyler Home With Winning Run to Break Up Pitching Duel Between Lonnie Warneke and Tex Carleton—23,000 Attend Game

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP).—Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler, who rested on the bench while Chicago Cubs were running up their seven-game winning streak and Gabby Hartnett, who pitched the last of his career, broke through in the eleventh inning today to break up a mound duel between Lonnie Warneke and Tex Carleton and give the Cubs a 3-2 victory over St. Louis Cardinals.

Cuyler left the bench at the start of the final inning to replace Ted Stainback, who injured a foot in the tenth. He celebrated his debut by poking Carleton's first pitch to left for a single, advanced on Manager Charley Grimm's sacrifice and walked while Bill Jurges drew an intentional pass. Hartnett, who had been hitless twelve consecutive times at bat, delivered in the pinch with a single to centre, which brought in the winning run.

THIRD STRAIGHT WIN
It was Warneke's third straight mound victory, and while not as impressive as the first two, in which he allowed only one hit each, it was a first-class job of hurling. The game was the only one played in the major leagues today, as rain and cold halted seven contests, and there might have been excuse for another postponement. Although the weather was clear, the temperature hovered around 40 degrees, and the wind chilled the "ladies' day" crowd of 23,000, including about 20,000 women, guests of the home club.

POSTPONEMENTS
National League—Brooklyn at Philadelphia, rain; Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, cold; New York at Boston, rain. Four games scheduled.
American League—Chicago at St. Louis, wet grounds; Cleveland at Detroit, cold; Philadelphia at Washington, rain; Boston at New York, rain. Four games scheduled.

COAST LEAGUE
Defeating the Missions, 5 to 1, Friday, the Seattle Indians tied the series count two and two on their home grounds. The visitors scored first, getting a run in the second inning on Dahlgren's single, an infield out and Fitzpatrick's single. The Indians tied the count in the third, when Ellsworth was safe on an error. Harrington beat out a bunt and Berger singled to centre, scoring Ellsworth.

Seattle scored three in the seventh to make the five.
Blasting out two home runs, a double and a single, Frank Demaree, Angel outfielder, led his team to a 10-1 victory over Sacramento at Los Angeles.
Demaree's first resounding poke came in the first inning with two runners on base. He repeated in the second inning under similar circumstances. In the fifth, with Stats on second base, he cracked out a double and scored another tally, running his total of runs batted in for the afternoon up to seven. Later, in the eighth, he singled.

"B" TOURNEY ENDS SUNDAY

Semi-Finals and Final of Annual Meet to Take Place at Uplands

The "B" class champion of the Uplands Golf Club will be crowned tomorrow afternoon, with the two survivors of the morning semi-finals meeting for the title. W. C. Mearns, in one season, here's a short-cut: Put a ring around June 1 on your baseball calendar.
"If I have eighteen by then," says the burly belter of the Athletics, "I'm on my way, I'll make it. If I'm under eighteen, well..."
Jimmie shrugs his wide shoulders and grins cheerfully. He's only twenty-seven, with years of slugging still ahead of him. He hit fifty-eight in 1932, two shy of the Babe's great mark.
"You have to have every break in luck," Jimmie explains. "You've got to be in there swinging in every game. I always get away to a slow start and have to make up ground late in the season. One minor injury will ruin everything."

McGill Professor Asked to Take Charge of Boys to Go to Australia

MONTREAL, April 27 (CP).—Dr. Arthur S. Lamb, director of education at McGill University, Montreal, has been requested by the national committee on the British Empire schoolboy tour to be manager of the Dominion's team. The team, which will be composed of twelve boys, remains to be selected.

Dr. Lamb expressed himself as "highly honored" at being chosen to manage the team, but his choice remained to be ratified by the board of governors of McGill University.

The intra-empire meet, which will see schoolboys from all the Dominions participating, is related to the British Empire game movement. The meet will be held in conjunction with the centenary anniversary of the cities of Melbourne and Victoria, Australia.
To represent Canada at the games, Dr. Lamb stated, twelve schoolboy athletes will be chosen. They will be picked following competitions in each of the provinces, this summer.

Divot shifters belonging to the United Commercial Travelers' Association will forget all about business matters this afternoon, and adjourn to the Gorge Vale Golf Club, where they will hold their annual championship tournament. The first squad will get away from the tee at 1:30, and the rest will follow at short intervals.

Arthur Richardson, last year's titleholder and winner of the coveted "Our Own Brand" Cup, will be on hand, with hopes of making it two straight, but their will be a large contingent present confident of dethroning the present monarch. One thing certain, Richardson will have to be at his best to come through a second straight year.

Besides the handsome trophy, the champion will be presented with a silver rose bowl, by Frank Partridge, manager of the Central Creameries, donors of the cup. The tourney will be terminated with a supper in the club house, and presentation of prizes.

A's Great Slugger Says He Will Have Chance to Break Record With Early Start

By EDWARD J. NEILL

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP).—If you don't care to worry along through the closing days of September, adding up Jimmie Foxx's home runs and wondering if he'll break Babe Ruth's record of sixty in one season, here's a short-cut: Put a ring around June 1 on your baseball calendar.

One thing certain, Richardson will have to be at his best to come through a second straight year.

Besides the handsome trophy, the champion will be presented with a silver rose bowl, by Frank Partridge, manager of the Central Creameries, donors of the cup. The tourney will be terminated with a supper in the club house, and presentation of prizes.

LEAF AND WINGS OFF FOR HOME

Players Reluctant to Leave for East After Great Reception on Coast

VANCOUVER, April 27.—Vancouver bade a reluctant farewell at the Canadian Pacific Railway station, this afternoon, to members of the Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings hockey teams, as the winners and runners-up for the National Hockey League championship boarded their two special coaches on the "Dominion". The party, including Manager Jack Adams, of Detroit; Coach Dick Irving, of Toronto; Foster Hewitt, radio director of Maple Leaf Gardens; H. F. Nelson, city passenger solicitor, C.P.R.; Toronto and other officials, numbered thirty-one. They will reach Toronto at 6:45 a.m., on Tuesday.

RELUCTANT TO LEAVE
The boys who finished their three-game Vancouver series all square by the first game, Detroit winning the second, and the Leafs the third, appeared just as reluctant to leave the Coast as Vancouver was to see them go. Entertained extensively by the Vancouver Gyro Club and local sportsmen, during the past week, they have played golf daily, appeared at service club luncheons, visited the parks and beaches, gone fishing, stood up manfully to swarms of autograph hunters and made thousands of new friends for themselves and hockey generally.

The players were called on to autograph everything from hockey sticks to ladies' handkerchiefs, some of them even affixing their signatures to a ten-gallon hat proudly worn by a cowboy from the Flying U Ranch, who came down from the Cariboo Hills for the games.

MLARIN AT STATION
On hand at the C.P.R. station to see the N.H.L. stars away were Fred "Cyclone" Taylor, one of hockey's immortals, now immigration commissioner here, and Vancouver's own world's champion lightweight, Jimmy McLarnin, who played golf with the visitors several times during the week.

Good-naturedly, the Leafs autographed their sticks and handed them over. King Clancy caused a mild sensation among his teammates and milling fans when he pulled off his sweater.

"It's okay, boys," grinned the king as he handed the blue and white jersey to a youthful admirer. And Clancy's grin broadened when the boy gasped out a "Gee, thanks, Mr. Clancy," and clutched his prize closer as he headed out of the arena to show his chums what "King Clancy, of the Toronto Maple Leafs gave me."

Conny Smythe, manager of the Leafs, was the only member of the tour who did not leave today.

Mr. Smythe expects to fly East, probably next week.

"How did he meet with his accident?" Just through carelessness; he threw his cigarette end down a coal-hole and tried to tread on it."
